Coti Global Sensors Hires New Marketing Director

Coti Global Sensors, an ISO-9001 certified company with one of the industry's largest selections of NTEP and FM approved load cells, recently hired Ashley Thomas as Marketing Director. Ashley will oversee all marketing activities and communications.

Ashley brings nearly ten years of marketing experience to the organization. She joins us from TNS where she worked as a Senior Research Associate for more than five years. Prior to that position, she was a Marketing Analyst for Hardee's Food Systems.

Ashley has a Bachelor of Science degree from Middle Tennessee State University and a Master of Arts degree from the University of Alabama. She also completed the Principles in Marketing Research certification from the University of Georgia.

We are very excited for Ashley to join Coti Global Sensors and help us continue to deliver the best service to our customers.
